About Ockelbo:

Where simple and straightforward take precedence over intricate and complicated. Safe driving pleasure, durability and smart details are close to our hearts. That's why we make fully welded aluminum boats. Boats that connect you to the full boating experience, without demanding much in return. Boats that deliver peace of mind and are virtually maintenance-free year after year. For us, boating is about freedom where every season brings opportunities. That's our inspiration when we design and build our boats.

About Anytec:

Anytec is not like other boats. It's not just about aluminum, horse-power, or technology. It's about the feeling—the one that awakens the moment you accelerate and the boat responds instantly, with precision, power, and uncompromising control. For us, speed isn't only measured in knots. It's built into every detail. It comes from within.
